Filmmaker and screenwriter Dustin Celestino has called out an online archive that allegedly provides links to pirated copies of Cinemalaya films, warning that piracy hurts the very independent filmmakers it claims to help.
In a Facebook post, Celestino reacted to an X user who shared a website described as an archive of Cinemalaya films from 2005 to the present. The original post framed the project as a response to complaints about the inaccessibility of quality Filipino films due to factors such as ticket prices and location.
But according to Celestino, the database does not simply point audiences toward legitimate streaming platforms—it allegedly also contains links to unauthorized copies of films.
“What’s with all these people posting pirated links of filmmakers’ films and acting like they’re doing them a favor by making their work more ‘visible?’” Celestino wrote.

He stressed that independent filmmakers already face enormous difficulty recovering the money spent on producing and releasing their movies.

“You are literally making it harder for independent filmmakers to pay their debts, break-even on their investments, and make more movies,” he said.

Celestino also took a swipe at people who allegedly watch pirated films and then publicly review them, writing: “Tapos, pinirata mo na nga, nag-iwan ka pa ng walang kwentang review. Nasaan na ba ang award for best audience? Bigyan ng trophy ’yan.”

In a separate post addressed directly to Cinemalaya filmmakers, Celestino sarcastically described the archive as an unexpected “distributor.”

“FYI, filmmakers ng Cinemalaya. May distributor na pala tayo, hindi lang tayo aware,” he wrote. “This person made a database of Cinemalaya films with pirated links para raw ‘mas accessible.’ Mag-‘thank you’ ba dapat tayo?”

The controversy touches on a longstanding problem confronting Philippine independent cinema: audiences want easier and more affordable access to films after their theatrical and festival runs, but unauthorized distribution can deprive filmmakers and rights holders of revenue and control over where and how their work is released.

Making Filipino films more accessible, Celestino’s posts argue, should not come at the expense of the people who made them.

IN MEMORIAM: Rolando D. Galman (1950 - August 21, 1983)... See more

GALMAN, in life and in death: taking the low road?
Everything You've Always Wanted to Know About Galman
by HORACIO V. PAREDES
Newspaper files yielded this social event from Galman's past when he was supposedly someone's consort at a Santacruzan.
THE other victim of the Aug. 21 Manila International Airport shootfest was Rolando Galman y Dawang, alias Rolando Vizcarra, 33 years old.
Basically the questions about him that are interesting are: Did he shoot Ninoy? If he did, how did he infiltrate the tight security at the airport? How tall is he? When did he die? Who, if anyone, hired him?
Galman is, of course, not providing any answers since he was officially dead sometime after 1:10 p.m. that Sunday. His body was left on the tarmac a full five hours before anyone decided to bring it in for an autopsy. But, then, he had been so much a part of the criminal lowlife that the military and police authorities know so well so that they had very few unanswered questions about him.
The Toronto Star notes that "his past suggests that he had more in common with the military.
"Galman, according to government sources had a long record of murder and violent crime, was arrested in February 1982, for alleged robbery, stealing cars and possession of an unlicensed firearm.
"But, instead of going through the courts like ordinary criminals, he was sent to a military prison, Camp Olivas, under a presidential commitment order.
"These orders, introduced under martial law by Marcos, who personally signed each one, were usually reserved for political dissidents. The order on Galman was recommended by a retired officer, Brig. Gen. Vicente Eduardo, then police chief of the region.
"But only two months later, Galman was released on Eduardo's orders — officially on humanitarian grounds after his common-law wife, Lina Lozano, appealed.
"A prominent source in Manila said last week that he believed that Galman was handed over to a colonel in the security forces.
One of the mysteries about Galman is his height and the speculations regarding this is traceable to the military itself. On Aug. 22, Gen. Prospero Olivas, METROCOM Chief, announced that the alleged killer was 163 centimeters tall (5'5"). On the 23rd, he announced that they did not know his name yet but that he was 168 cm. (5'7"). Then, finally, the autopsy report cites his height at 175 cm. (5'9"), that measurement taken with a piece of wood at the Philippine Constabulary Crime Laboratory at Camp Crame.
Perhaps, however, the height of Galman while still alive is more important than his height laid out in the morgue. For that live height, perhaps, the various agencies of the government from his identification cards, residence certificates, drivers licenses, police reports, mug shots upon his multifarious arrests and other official records will yield some hard facts on this aspect.
The rest of it classifies Galman as one of the victims of the times. His alleged victim and he shared a passion — politics. Politics is the art of making possible the things that are considered impossible. While Ninoy took the high road, going for the lofty and the unattainable Galman took to the low road, making possible for his various masters with his deadly weapons, the things that would otherwise have been impossible for them to achieve.
According to the military, Galman was a notorious hit man. Those who have met him will say only that he was one of many goons known as the boys from Zaragosa. Several towns in Nueva Ecija have become hideouts for armed gangs that occasionally pull off bank robberies, murders and carnaps in Manila. Besides Zaragosa, the other towns are Aliaga, San Isidro, Peñaranda and Gapan.
With the goons concentrated in one place, the hiring done by the politicians and those who would gain by some form of violence or other is simplified, which means that the business will come to Nueva Ecija and all a good man must do is to make himself available when the recruiters come a-calling.
These goons usually have handlers, who, like pimps, take care of the business end of the profession. The real pros, like Galman, had handlers in Manila itself.
Galman is, according to Olivas, "a notorious killer, a gun for hire . . . used by various elements, including organized crime, and by subversive elements, possibly for individual vengeance, armed robbery, carnaping, hijacking, bank holdups, and kidnapping for ransom." How such a notorious and well-known creature could breach airport security with no identification papers on him other than a ring with the initial "R" and jockey shorts with the embroidered name "Rolly," only the AVSECOM can answer, of course.
One apparent question that occurs is this: why would his shorts be embroidered with the name "Rolly" when in fact those who knew him called him "Lando." Would not his wife or other beloved who embroidered the shorts have used the name by which she called him?
That Galman was well-known in police circles is indisputable. His story starts in Galman is, according to Olivas, "a notorious killer, a gun for hire . . . used by various elements, including organized crime, and by subversive elements, possibly for individual vengeance, armed robbery, carnaping, hijacking, bank holdups, and kidnapping for ransom." How such a notorious and well-known creature could breach airport security with no identification papers on him other than a ring with the initial "R" and jockey shorts with the embroidered name "Rolly," only the AVSECOM can answer, of course.

One apparent question that occurs is this: why would his shorts be embroidered with the name "Rolly" when in fact those who knew him called him "Lando." Would not his wife or other beloved who embroidered the shorts have used the name by which she called him?

That Galman was well-known in police circles is indisputable. His story starts in 1972. He had started off as a goon for hire in the local mayoralty fights before martial law. He was with the gang of Feliciano de la Cruz who was ranged against the gang of "Peding." He made himself worthy of notice with some vendetta jobs apparently done with professional dispatch. There are many unsolved crimes in Nueva Ecija. The bad blood between political and other parties, according to Tempo has resulted in over 30 killings with only two solved so far.

resulted in over 30 killings with only two solved so far.

In 1981, Galman's own father was killed. Adding to his legend, he tracked the killers down and killed two of them. But, he wasn't all that good since even in a simple gasoline station holdup, in Bulacan, he was wounded in the leg. Then, on March 1, 1982, he was captured, detained under a PCO and was one of the very few released without much interference or intercession from human rights groups. He was released November 26, 1982. Bail at P40,000 was paid by Manila businessmen, Charlie Chua and Benjie Co.

He is suspected of many crimes, several of them murders. In fairness to him, however, he has never been convicted of any of these.

In all of the crimes attributed to him, Galman has always used either a .45 caliber automatic pistol or an armalite rifle. Why, one might ask, would he suddenly shift to a larger caliber and a larger gun, the Smith & Wesson .357 Magnum? Also, why would someone so used to automatic firearms suddenly use a revolver on what must have been, even to him, one of the more important jobs of his career.

If he had had an automatic pistol, he could probably have shot Ninoy at least three times and taken out the three guards during the 5.5 seconds (as documented by Japanese

Aug 23, 2026 11:46:47

If he had had an automatic pistol, he could probably have shot Ninoy at least three times and taken out the three guards during the 3.5 seconds (as documented by Japanese television) between the shot that killed Ninoy and the first shot that was fired at Galman. He could have done that and reloaded with another magazine. Even, in fact, with a revolver, he could have killed the three guards after that one shot on Ninoy in 3.5 seconds although he would not have been able to reload and thereby escape.

Galman had a woman in San Miguel Bulacan, for the last 10 years, Lina Lozano, 30, by whom he has a son, Rey, one year old. They are missing and are possibly not in military custody. In fact, even the military is making noises about wanting to find them. With Lina, he had planned a wedding on Aug. 26 at the Catholic church in San Miguel, Bulacan.

In a related story Asiaweek said that Galman would have spent the week after August 21 shopping with girlfriend Ana Oliva, nicknamed "Baby." Baby is an entertainer at the Del Monte supper club in Caloocan where she works with her sister Catherine Oliva. Baby says that on the Saturday evening before the assassination, she was at a motel near the Manila International Airport with Lando. Five armed men tough-looking with close-cropped hair, met with Galman then and also on the nights of Thursday and Friday. On September 4, two weeks after the killing, Baby and Catherine Oliva were picked up by armed men from the club using two cars with VHF radios that looked official government issue. They are also missing.

and Friday. On September 4, two weeks after the killing, Baby and Catherine Oliva were picked up by armed men from the club using two cars with VHF radios that looked official government issue. They are also missing.

Those that the military admit having picked up were the sister and mother of Galman. On Aug. 27, they were taken by an Air Force unit which is the operational military force in the Aliaga area. Saturnina Dawang, 63, and her daughter, Marilyn, 20, probably have nothing to add to the story. The relatives and friends of Lando think that he was just a farmer and had no sources of income other than the rice farm he was tilling in San Miguel, Bulacan.

There is a wealth of detail on Rolly but most of it is not even relevant. Even just to establish his height there may have to be a second more exacting autopsy unless the records from the PC Criminal Investigation Service, the Metrocom, the Air Force, and the other agencies of the government are brought out so that, perhaps, these will establish, once and for all, how tall he was when he was alive, even if it does not match his deadheight.

The autopsy of Galman was performed at 11:30 in the evening of Aug. 21. The computer printout identifies it as 232151 "Autopsy of Alleged Aquino Assassin." Then, it goes on: "Unknown adult male, 30-35 yrs. old . . . height — 175 cm." It then details the wounds. Strangely, the first one is almost exactly where Ninoy had his single wound: "6.5 cm. behind and 2.0 cm. above left external auditory nertus . . . penetrating cranial cavity (behind left ear)" then he has several in his left chest, his "left hyphochondriac region level of costal arch" (upper belly), two in the back, one bullet causing nine punctures from stomach to thighs "hit by bullet," says the autopsy, "from front possibly from prone shooter and one bullet caused all the nine punctures from stomach down to thigh," and one "at elbow region," and "grazing wounds, numbering two."

Then, it details his scars. He has two "very vague" "1.5 x 1.0 cm. and 1.0 by 1.0 cm. at right and left external canthi of both eyes." (Corners of the eyes.) He has a large scar on his right thigh and two scars on his shin. "Stomach, says the official report, "is filled to 1/3 with partially digested rice."

He died, Dr. Nieto M. Salvador, M.D., Medico-legel officer testifies, of "shock secondary to multiple gunshot wounds."

In the Japanese Betamax films, after the shot that would have been for Ninoy, there is a pause of 3.5 seconds after which there is one shot. Then, 0.2 seconds later, another shot from (according to the Japanese) another gun. Then a burst. Philippine photographers are photographing the scene by the time the continuous burst occurs and their photos show Galman already on his back. When, then, was he shot in the back, twice according to the autopsy report of August 21, five times, according to expert testimony at the Fernando commission?

"But, instead of going through the courts like ordinary criminals, he was sent to a military prison, Camp Olivas, under a presidential commitment order.

"These orders, introduced under martial law by Marcos, who personally signed each one, were usually reserved for political dissidents. The order on Galman was recommended by a retired officer, Brig. Gen. Vicente Eduardo, then police chief of the region.

"But only two months later, Galman was released on Eduardo's orders — officially on humanitarian grounds after his common-law wife, Lina Lozano, appealed.

"A prominent source in Manila said last week that he believed that Galman was handed over to a colonel in the security forces.

One of the mysteries about Galman is his height and the speculations regarding this is traceable to the military itself. On Aug. 22, Gen. Prospero Olivas, METROCOM Chief, announced that the alleged killer was 163 centimeters tall (5'5"). On the 23rd, he announced that they did not know his name yet but that he was 168 cm. (5'7"). Then, finally, the autopsy report cites his height at 175 cm. (5'9"), that measurement taken with a piece of wood at the Philippine Constabulary Crime Laboratory at Camp Crame.

Perhaps, however, the height of Galman while still alive is more important than his height laid out in the morgue. For that five height, perhaps, the various agencies of the government from his identification cards, residence certificates, drivers licenses, police reports, mug shots upon his multifarious arrests and other official records will yield some hard facts on this aspect.

The rest of it classifies Galman as one of the victims of the times. His alleged victim and he shared a passion — politics. Politics is the art of making possible the things that are considered impossible. While Ninoy took the high road, going for the lofty and the unattainable Galman took to the low road, making possible for his various masters with his deadly weapons, the things that would otherwise have been impossible for them to achieve.

According to the military, Galman was a notorious hit man. Those who have met him will say only that he was one of many goons known as the boys from Zaragosa. Several towns in Nueva Ecija have become hideouts for armed gangs that occasionally pull off bank robberies, murders and carnaps in Manila. Besides Zaragosa, the other towns are Aliaga, San Isidro, Peñaranda and Gapan. With the goons concentrated in one place, the hiring done by the politicians and those who would gain by some form of violence or other is simplified, which means that the business will come to Nueva Ecija and all a good man must do is to make himself available when the recruiters come a-calling. These goons usually have handlers, who, like pimps, take care of the business end of the profession. The real pros, like Galman, had handlers in Manila itself.

Galman is, according to Olivas, "a notorious killer, a gun for hire . . . used by various elements, including organized crime, and by subversive elements, possibly for individual vengeance, armed robbery, carnaping, hijacking, bank holdups, and kidnapping for ransom." How such a notorious and well-known creature could breach airport security with no identification papers on him other than a ring with the initial "R" and jockey shorts with the embroidered name "Rolly," only the AVSECOM can answer, of course.

One apparent question that occurs is this: why would his shorts be embroidered with the name "Rolly" when in fact those who knew him called him "Lando." Would not his wife or other beloved who embroidered the shorts have used the name by which she called him?

That Galman was well-known in police circles is indisputable. His story starts in GALMAN, in life and in death: taking the low road?

Newspaper files yielded this social event from Galman's past when he was supposedly someone's consort at a Santacruzan.

Everything You've Always Wanted to Know About Galman

by HORACIO V. PAREDES

THE other victim of the Aug. 21 Manila International Airport shootfest was Rolando Galman y Dawang, alias Rolando Vizcarra, 33 years old.

Basically the questions about him that are interesting are: Did he shoot Ninoy? If he did, how did he infiltrate the tight security at the airport? How tall is he? When did he die? Who, if anyone, hired him?

Galman is, of course, not providing any answers since he was officially dead sometime after 1:10 p.m. that Sunday. His body was left on the tarmac a full five hours before anyone decided to bring it in for an autopsy. But, then, he had been so much a part of the criminal lowlife that the military and police authorities know so well so that they had very few unanswered questions about him.

The Toronto Star notes that "his past suggests that he had more in common with the military.

"Galman, according to government sources had a long record of murder and violent crime, was arrested in February 1982, for alleged robbery, stealing cars and possession of an unlicensed firearm.

"But, instead of going through the courts like ordinary criminals, he was sent to a military prison, Camp Olivas, under a presidential commitment order.

"These orders, introduced under martial law by Marcos, who personally signed each one, were usually reserved for political dissidents. The order on Galman was recommended by a retired officer, Brig. Gen. Vicente Eduardo, then police chief of the region.

"But only two months later, Galman was released on Eduardo's orders — officially on humanitarian grounds after his common-law wife, Lina Lozano, appealed.

Tama si ante Kler, may mga guro talaga ngayon na kulang sa modo.
DepEd Philippines should look into this. Educators should act professionally!

Before politics, he made his name in violent action movies.

Philippine Senator Robinhood Padilla has threatened to push for restrictions against Netflix, online games and other digital platforms if they fail to prevent children from accessing violent content.

Padilla issued the warning on Thursday as concerns grow in the Philippines, a Southeast Asian country where lawmakers are increasingly scrutinizing what minors can access through social media, streaming services and online games.

His statement suggests the debate is no longer focused on just one type of platform. Streaming services and gaming platforms could also face political pressure if lawmakers believe their safeguards for young users are inadequate.

However, Padilla's statement is a threat to pursue restrictions, not an announcement that Netflix or online games have already been banned. The brief report also does not specify what legal mechanism would be used or what standards platforms would have to meet.

The issue raises a much wider question for the Philippines: should government impose stronger restrictions on digital platforms, or should the focus be on parental controls, age restrictions and better enforcement of existing safeguards?

As children spend more of their lives online, that debate is likely to extend well beyond any single app, game or streaming service.

HONORING NINOY AQUINO DAY... more

#BeAnINQUIRER
Honoring Ninoy Aquino Day
On Ninoy Aquino Day, we commemorate the assassination of former senator Benigno "Ninoy" Aquino, Jr.
Here are some historical facts we must look back on this day.
Who is Ninoy Aquino?
Benigno Simeon Aquino, Jr., also known as "Ninoy," was born in Concepcion, Tarlac, on November 27, 1932. He belongs to a prosperous landowners' family.
In 1954, Ninoy Aquino enrolled at the University of the Philippines to study law. He was a member of the Upsilon Sigma Phi fraternity, the same fraternity as Ferdinand Marcos Sr.
Young politician
At the age of 22, Aquino served as mayor of his hometown. After that, he accomplished several milestones and became the nation's youngest senator in 1967.
His steadfast devotion to his principles spurred a fresh round of activism and opposition to the Marcos regime.
Why do we commemorate him every 21st of August?
Former president Gloria Macapagal Arroyo signed Republic Act No. 9256 into law on February 25, 2004, twenty-one years after Aquino's passing, as a special non-working holiday.
It pays tribute to politician and proponent of democracy Ninoy Aquino's bravery and efforts in fighting for freedom against the dictatorship.

Tapos ano? Papahanapbuhay pa rin natin sina Vice Ganda at TVJ?

Nakaka-curious talaga ang “Sara sa 2028” kapag tinanong mo ng pinaka-basic na tanong sa pagpili ng Presidente:

“Ano ang sariling nagawa ni Sara Duterte na dahilan kung bakit siya qualified maging Presidente?”

Biglang buffering.

Tapos maya-maya: “Eh kasi si Digong…”

Teh, si Sara ang tinatanong. Bakit tatay niya ang sumasagot sa oral exam?

At para fair at factually accurate tayo: hindi rin tama sabihing “wala siyang kahit anong project.” May mga programa ang OVP tulad ng Libreng Sakay, Mag Negosyo ’Ta Day, at PagbaBAGo initiatives.

Pero iyon nga ang punto: HUWAG “BASTA SARA.” Ipakita ang résumé.

Ano ang measurable results? Ano ang major policy contribution? Ano ang problemang inayos niya? Ano ang repormang maituturo mong sa leadership niya talaga nanggaling? Ano ang ginawa niya na nagpapatunay na kaya niyang pamahalaan ang 115+ million Filipinos?

2026-08-23 13:08:42

Kasi ang Presidency hindi family business na kapag magaling daw si Daddy, automatic qualified na ang anak.

Parang job interview:

HR: “Ano ang achievements mo?”

Applicant: “Magaling po tatay ko.”

HR: “Ikaw nga?”

Applicant: “Basta Duterte po.”

Beh. Hindi résumé ang family tree.

At applicable ito hindi lang kay Sara kundi sa LAHAT ng kandidato sa 2028. Eto ang simpleng voter guide natin:

1. SARILING RECORD. Ano ang nagawa NIYA, hindi ng tatay, nanay, asawa, kapatid o political dynasty niya?

2. MEASURABLE RESULTS. Hindi puro ribbon-cutting at ayuda pictures. May numero ba? Ilang trabaho? Ilang classroom? Ilang pamilyang nakaahon? Bumaba ba ang problema pagkatapos ng programa?

2026-08-23 13:08:44

3. COMPETENCE. Kapag may k

3. COMPETENCE. Kapag may krisis, marunong bang mag-manage, magdesisyon at magpaliwanag? Presidency is management of one of the largest bureaucracies in Southeast Asia, hindi motivational speaking contest.

4. INTEGRITY AND TRANSPARENCY. Kaya bang ipaliwanag kung saan napunta ang pera ng bayan? Kapag tinatanong ng media, Congress, COA o publiko, sumasagot ba nang malinaw?

5. POLICIES, HINDI PERSONALITY. Ano ang plano sa presyo ng pagkain, trabaho, healthcare, education, transport, agriculture, energy at national debt? “Matapang siya” is a personality description, not an economic program.

6. RESPECT FOR INSTITUTIONS. Marunong bang rumespeto sa Constitution, courts, Congress, audit institutions, press at political opposition? Ang Presidente hindi hari na kapag na-badtrip, optional na ang checks and balances.

7. KAYANG TUMAYO NANG WALANG APELYIDO. Ito ang pinakamadaling test: alisin mo ang surname niya. Kung ordinaryong Juan, Maria, Sara o Bong ang pangalan niya, sapat pa rin ba ang résumé para iboto mo siyang Presidente?

Kung oo, ipaglaban mo gamit ang achievements, data at policies.

Kung ang sagot mo sa lahat ay

2026-08-23 13:08:48

Kung ang sagot mo sa lahat ay “BASTA SIYA,” hindi mo ine-evaluate ang kandidato. Nagfa-fan club ka.

At mga beh, election ang 2028.

Hindi PBB Big Night.

Hindi Miss Popularity.

At lalong hindi “anak siya ng paborito kong Presidente, therefore siya na next.”

Ang boto ay job interview ng taumbayan.

Humingi ng résumé. Humingi ng resibo. Humingi ng plano.

Kapag ang kandidato ay talagang magaling, hindi niya kailangan magtago sa apelyido ng tatay niya.

Dapat kaya niyang tumayo sa sarili niyang record.

KINO-COACH SI GUTEZA?

Hindi na raw ikinagulat ng political analyst na si Ronald Llamas ang pagbawi ni Orly Guteza sa mga testimonya nito sa Senate Blue Ribbon Committee hearing.

Halata naman kasi aniyang "staged" at tinuturuan ni Sen. Rodante Marcoleta ang dating security detail ni Zaldy Co noong pagdinig kaugnay ng flood control scandal.

Kasunod ito ng pagbubunyag ni Guteza na sina Marcoleta at dating kongresistang si Mike Defensor umano ang nasa likod ng kanyang affidavit at pagtestigo para idiin si dating Housea Speaker Martin Romualdez.

ISANG GRADE 10 STUDENT ANG NAPATAY; ISANG GRADE 10 STUDENT, NADAPLISAN DIN NG BALA MATAPOS MAGPAPUTOK ANG ISANG GRADE 8 STUDENT SA LOOB NG JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING NG ATENEO DE ZAMBOANGA UNIVERSITY.

Paano niya naipasok sa campus ang dalawang baril na kapwa pag-aari umano ng kanyang amang opisyal ng Bureau of Customs?

Dalawang buwan matapos ang school shooting sa Tacloban, lumipad si Jessica Soho pa-Zamboanga upang siyasatin ang trahedya at alamin kung paano mapipigilan ang susunod na karahasan sa loob ng paaralan.

“Narinig po namin ‘yung barilan doon sa loob.

Nagtakbuhan ang mga estudyante.

Mga walang sapatos.

Mayroong nahimatay.

Nakaka-trauma.

First sa Tacloban, ngayon dito naman sa Zamboanga.

Aug 23, 2026 14:21:55

First sa Tacloban, ngayon dito naman sa Zamboanga.

Dalawang beses na.

Sana po hindi na po maulit.”

-Mga residente

“Nalulungkot po kami sa kaganapan na 'to.

We continue to reach out to and accompany the families directly affected by the tragedy.

We also hold in prayer our students, our personnel, and everyone who has been shaken by what happened.

The university is fully cooperating with law enforcement and the proper authorities as they continue their investigation.

We know that there are many questions that all of us understandably want answered.

We ask for your patience as the facts are carefully established. At this time, we do not want to preempt the results of the investigation.

We will continue to provide pastoral, psychological, and other necessary support in the days ahead.

Aug 23, 2026 14:21:58

We will continue to provide pastoral, psychological, and other necessary support in the days ahead.

We ask everyone to remain compassionate, prayerful, and responsible in sharing information.”

As a former non-Catholic preacher, whenever we saw a Catholic walking away or avoiding us when we approached them, we sometimes jumped to conclusions.

We would think:

"Catholics really don't want to hear the Word of God."
"They don't really want to be saved."
"They're just like the people in Noah's time who refused to listen to the warning."

But now that I'm Catholic myself, I've come to realize that it's not always that simple.

Some Catholics may walk away not because they hate God's Word, reject salvation, or refuse to listen. There could be many other reasons:

1. They simply want to avoid an argument. Not every encounter has to turn into a theological debate.

2. They may not feel prepared to defend their faith. A preacher might bring up Bible verses or objections they don't know how to answer.

3. They just want to keep the peace. Walking away doesn't necessarily mean they're afraid or

3. They just want to keep the peace. Walking away doesn't necessarily mean they're afraid or rejecting God.

4. They may have had bad experiences with aggressive preaching or anti-Catholic arguments.

5. Some Catholics simply aren't interested in religious debates. And that's okay.

6. Others may actually welcome the conversation and see it as an opportunity to share and explain their Catholic faith.

Honestly, this experience taught me something: These days, many preachers are actively challenging Catholics. Some are trying to convince our brothers and sisters to leave the Church, while others make accusations or share teachings that Catholics may not know how to respond to.

We should not be afraid, we should be prepared. We need to know our Bible, understand our Catholic faith, and learn the history of the Church so we can confidently defend what we believe.

And who knows? Maybe one day, we could be the reason that preacher stops, takes a closer look, and discovers the truth they were searching for. Not by arguing or attacking them,

THE SPLASH BROTHERS IN MIAMI?! 👀🔥

With Klay Thompson now joining the Heat, could Steph Curry be next?

Steph and Klay spent 13 seasons together in Golden State, forming one of the greatest backcourts in NBA history and winning four championships.

While there's no confirmed indication that Curry is headed to Miami, Klay's move has fans dreaming about a Splash Brothers reunion in South Beach.

Steph + Klay + Giannis + Bam? 🤯😱

Donald Trump has claimed he will be impeached if the Republicans lose the midterm elections in November.

“They say ‘Trump does great when he’s on the ballot, but when he’s not on the ballot, his people don’t come. So what I really want you to do is pretend, please, that I’m on the ballot. Just come and vote.”

Ano kaya ang nangyayari sa isang puso ng isang bata na magpaplano? Ano ang hangad ng ganyang puso?
Para sa mga lolo, lola, mga magulang, ipakita sa mga bata ang puso na makatao.

LUIS ANTONIO TAGLE
AUGUST 19, 2026
An act of violence within a school community wounds more than those who are physically injured. It wounds the sense of safety and trust that should allow our young people to learn, grow, dream, and become who God calls them to be.
For this reason, we must not allow this tragedy to pass without listening deeply to what it tells us about the struggles of our young people.
CARDINAL
JOSE ADVINCULA
AUGUST 21, 2026
We need to teach our children how to deal with anger without converting anger into hatred; how to respond to humiliation without imagining revenge; how to seek justice without becoming unjust themselves. And perhaps we, adults, need to learn those things again, too.

DARRYL YAP CURSES ANEW, GETS SCOLDED BY VIVA FILMS

FILM director Darryl Yap apparently got a dressing-down not only from Metropolitan Manila Development Authority General Manager Nicolas Torre III but also from Viva Films.

Yap revealed that Viva Films had reprimanded him for his social media posts and told him to focus on his first horror movie.

“Pinagalitan na ako ng VIVA FILMS, dapat daw nagpopokus ako sa first horror movie ko, wag na daw ako mag-Facebook. So ayun. Tama na muna!” Yap said.

Sa standing high jump, umabot naman sa 2.8843 metro ang naitala mula sa humanoid robot. Mas mataas din ito sa human high jump record. | via Reuters

"ilang mins palang sa LRT ay bigla nalang akong nilapitan ng Gwardya dahil bawal raw yung ginagawa ko"

Ito ang ilang salita na pinost ng isang evangelist mtapos syang pagbawalang mamahagi ng salita ng Diyos sa pampublikong lugar.

Hati ang opinyon ng mrami sa pngyyaring ito dahil wala daw sa lugar ang gnagawa nyang preaching at skabila nman ay ilang minuto lang nman itong preaching tapos maliligtas kpa.

pro ikaw ano ang mssabi mo sa gntong sitwasyon ok lng bang makinig ng salita ng Diyos kahit pagod after work? o pet peeve mo narin ang mga sektang sinasabing sila lang ang tanging relihiyon tungo sa buhay na walang hanggan? ikaw na nakikinig mahirap pero ung puno mayaman.

THE MARCOS MILITARY KILLED NINOY AQUINO.

No, not Rolando Galman.

He was murdered by the Marcos military — a fact confirmed by the Agrava Fact-Finding Commission and the Supreme Court itself.

For decades, Marcos apologists have recycled the same fake story. But the evidence is overwhelming: 125 trial days, 194 witnesses, 20,000+ pages of transcripts. The conclusion was clear then, and it's clear now — Ninoy's assassination was a military conspiracy.

This is PART 1 of the infocard series that dismantles the dictatorship's lies, one by one.

WHAT WAS THE AGRAVA REPORT?
Due to public pressure, Marcos Sr. created the Agrava Fact-Finding Board in October 22, 1983 to investigate Ninoy Aquino's assassination. It had five members led by Justice Corazon Agrava.
The independent board concluded that the military plotted and killed Ninoy Aquino.

THE LIE: "GALMAN SHOT NINOY"
After Ninoy Aquino was shot on the tarmac in 1983, the Marcos dictatorship insisted that communists killed Ninoy Aquino.
But this was a lie carefully planted to cover up a military conspiracy.
The military claimed Rolando Galman was the assassin. That's a lie.
The Agrava Fact-Finding Board proved Galman was planted at the scene and executed by the military. He was never the killer — he was the cover-up.

STELLA MARIS STANDS FIRM AGAINST THE WAVES

A striking video of a white #marble statue of the Virgin Mary standing amid crashing waves off the Italian coast has gained attention online.

Known as Stella Maris, or "Star of the Sea," the nearly 6-foot statue stands on the Scoglio del Diavolo, a dangerous submerged shoal near Tinetto Island off Portovenere, #Italy.

Installed in 2003, the statue serves both as a Marian symbol of protection for sailors and as a warning marking the hazardous shallow waters. It was damaged by a storm in 2008 but was later recovered and returned to its place overlooking the sea.

Jesus Tells a Time-Traveller to Go Home in This Viral Comic

A striking comic by artist @gaelnolesabe has been circulating with thousands of likes, adapting a popular text meme into a visual sequence. The premise is simple: imagine travelling back in time to hear one of Jesus's sermons in ancient Aramaic. From across the crowd he locks eyes with you and, in perfect modern English, says only, "Go home. Now."

The comic renders it across a few tight panels. Jesus preaches to a throng, his speech bubbles filled with stylised ancient script, before the view moves to his stern expression, then the startled time-traveller in a hood, and finally a close-up of the flat command, "GO. HOME." The panel-by-panel build gives the original line a slow, deliberate weight.

Its appeal rests on two ideas working together. One is the absurdity of an anachronistic visitor being identified instantly among thousands of onlookers. The other is the implication that Jesus already senses something is out of place, whether through divine omniscience or simple awareness. Both readings hold, which is part of why the original concept has stayed in circulation.

CHURCH NEWS | “Edi Madre na Maganda”: From Pageants to a Life of Vocation, She Embraces God’s Call

Arianne Trixy Pajares recently shared her journey of entering religious vocation with the Daughters of the Crowned Virgin Sisters.

Before answering the call to religious life, Trixy joined beauty pageants, making the words she often heard whenever she shared her plans all too familiar:

“Magmamadre ka talaga? Sayang naman. Ang ganda mo pa naman.”

Her response? “Okay lang. Edi Madre na Maganda.”

From the spotlight to the sanctuary, from pageants to vocation, she chose to follow the One who called her.

'NAKAKALUNGKOT LANG KASI GRABE MAKALAIT 'YUNG IBA'

Actress Shaira Diaz spoke out against body shaming and pregnancy speculations, reminding netizens to be more mindful and kind with their comments online.

"If you have nothing nice to say, then please just keep it to yourself, hindi yung magco-comment pa. Nakakalungkot lang kasi grabe makalait yung iba, as if you know everything that's happening in someone else's body and life," Diaz wrote.

"I'm only human. I gain weight, I struggle, and I have insecurities too. I'm doing my best na hindi maapektuhan pero again, tao lang ako. A little kindness goes a long way," she added.

I am aware that I gained weight, and I'm not proud of it. I'm trying, pero ang hirap talaga magpapayat. I'm dealing with metabolic and hormonal issues related to #PCOS, and I'm sure marami rin ang nakaka-relate sa struggle na 'to. Insulin resistance and hormonal imbalances etc... search niyo para malaman niyo.
Kaya sana naman, let's be a little kinder and more sensitive. You never really know what someone is going through. If you have nothing nice to say, then please just keep it to yourself, hindi yung magcocomment pa. Nakakalungkot lang kasi grabe makalait yung iba, as if you know everything that's happening in someone else's body and life. Inaano ko ba kayo? Ang pe-perfect niyo naman.

Nine years ago, in 2017, Iloilo City made headlines after the City Government signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with Chinese electric vehicle giant BYD for a proposed 20-kilometer monorail system around the city.

The project, called Yungui or "Cloud Rail," was envisioned to be operational by 2019.

According to reports at the time, BYD said the elevated transit system could reach speeds of up to 80 km/h and would cost significantly less than a conventional metro system.

The company also said it could handle everything from designing the trains and laying the tracks to building stations and installing the communication system.

The proposal didn't stop at rail transportation, either. BYD was also reportedly in talks with the Iloilo government about introducing new-energy buses and working with local universities to train transportation professionals.

Fast-forward to 2026, and the proposed Cloud Rail remains just that—a proposal. 🚄😥

Iloilo is still waiting for its skyrail to become a reality.

Imagine if it had actually pushed through. 👀

Kung ako may mga LUXURY ITEMS, ibebenta ko muna ang mga iyon para may pampakabit ng solar panels. Hindi iyong uutang ako sa GSIS, tapos sasabihan ko ang isang troll farm tulad ng Voice Of Millennials na ganito dapat ang narrative:
"Ginamit ni Mayor Leni ang standard GSIS loan para magsilbing ehemplo siya sa mga ordinaryong Pilipino, na ang renewable energy ay kayang-kaya abutin gamit ang tamang government programs. Mula P7,000 na kuryente niya ay naging P300 na lang ang bill. Iyan ang tinatawag na smart Return on Investment. By doing this, she encourages Nagueños to do the same. This is exactly how a leader should be - a leader who walks the talk."

TINGNAN: Tukoy na raw at nasa kustodiya na ng mga awtoridad ang dalawang estudyanteng may kaugnayan umano sa account na ginamit sa school threat sa Taguig City, ayon sa Taguig LGU.

Ayon sa paunang imbestigasyon ng pulisya, natukoy ang unang estudyante na sinabing ginamit ng pangalawang estudyante ang kaniyang social media account para gumawa at mag-post ng nasabing banta.

Patuloy raw ang imbestigasyon upang matiyak ang buong pangyayari at kung sino-sino ang maaaring may pananagutan sa insidente.

DALAWANG ESTUDYANTENG NATUKOY KAUGNAY NG ACCOUNT NA GINAMIT SA SCHOOL THREAT SA TAGUIG, NASA KUSTODIYA NA NG MGA AWTORIDAD

Natukoy na at nasa kustodiya na ng mga awtoridad para sa kaukulang imbestigasyon ang dalawang estudyanteng may kaugnayan sa social media account na ginamit sa pag-post ng banta laban sa dalawang paaralan sa Taguig, ayon sa paunang ulat ng mga awtoridad.

Agad na nakipag-ugnayan ang Pamahalaang Lungsod ng Taguig sa Taguig City Police at sa mga kinauukulang paaralan matapos kumalat ang mga post upang matukoy ang pinagmulan ng banta at matiyak ang kaligtasan ng mga mag-aaral, guro, at school personnel.

Ayon sa paunang imbestigasyon ng pulisya, natukoy ang unang estudyante na sinabing ang pangalawang estudyante na kaklase niya ang umanoy gumamit ng kanyang account upang gumawa at mag-post ng nasabing banta.

Sinuri rin ng mga awtoridad ang kumakalat na video na nagpapakita ng baril na sinasabing gagamitin umano kaugnay ng banta. Batay sa paunang imbestigasyon, ang naturang video ay hindi kuha ng dalawang estudyante at na-download lamang mula sa Facebook.

Patuloy ang imbestigasyon upang matiyak ang buong pangyayari, kabilang ang tunay na pinagmulan ng mga post at kung sinu-sino ang maaaring may pananagutan.

Binigyang-diin ng Lungsod na sineseryoso nito ang anumang banta laban sa mga paaralan. Patuloy ang pakikipag-ugnayan ng Pamahalaang Lungsod sa pulisya, mga opisyal ng paaralan, at iba pang kinauukulang ahensya upang matiyak na ang lahat ng posibleng banta ay agad na nasusuri at naaaksyunan.

Ang sinumang mapatunayang responsable ay pananagutin alinsunod sa batas, habang titiyakin ng mga awtoridad na ang imbestigasyon ay isasagawa nang maayos lalo na kung sangkot ang mga menor de edad.

Patuloy ang mahigpit na koordinasyon ng lokal na pamahalaan, Taguig Police, school officials, at mga barangay upang mapanatili ang kaligtasan at seguridad sa mga paaralan.

Hinihikayat ng Lungsod ang mga magulang at guardians na patuloy na bantayan ang online at offline activities ng kanilang mga anak at inaalagaan at agad i-report sa paaralan, pulisya, o iba pang awtoridad ang anumang kahina-hinala o nagbabantang aktibidad. Hinihiling din sa publiko na huwag ipakalat ang mga mapanganib o hindi beripikadong post at

I recently attempted to record Hollywood On Set Episode 1181 on HBO Hits (Malaysia Feed) and HBO Signature (Indonesia Feed), but failed both times.

The reasons are twofold:
- Firstly, the recording source on both feeds was unstable, freezing due to poor connectivity.

- Secondly, the broadcast time on HBO Signature (Indonesia stream) coincided with the end of the HBO Hits broadcast.

Please understand, I will try again, and I also need help assistance from HBO Max Indonesia @HBOMax_ID-d2o ,as their connection in Indonesia is much better than in Vietnam.
